Start Date: Thursday, June 14, 2018 8:00

AM

End Date: Thursday, June 14, 2018 10:00 AM

We are pleased to announce details of our next Senior Executive Breakfast taking place on Thursday 14 June 2018. The event is kindly hosted by SyndicateRoom at their offices in Cambridge.

The theme of discussions will be:

‘ The future of national funding support to the Life Sciences industry – How to overcome the potential shortfall’

Our three expert speakers will share their insight into the current funding climate for SME’s within the life sciences industry, and look at the existing contribution made to UK companies by the European Investment Bank.

Is this funding structure due to change with the UK’s impending withdrawal from the European Union?

What role do crowdfunding platforms, private equity, patient capital and UK government grant funding play in stabilising the funding structure of future Life Sciences innovation?

Our speakers will look at the consequence of this change in the funding environment and consider who will meet the shortfall and what the future of funding may look like post-Brexit.

Keynotes will be followed by a round table discussion.
